Township Campus Named After Charles E. Coxe

Who is Charles E. Coxe?

Passersby the new Willistown Police Department building will notice the sign reading "Charles E. Coxe Memorial Campus" and might wonder, "Who is Charles E. Coxe?"

In the years following the Civil War, Willistown Township consisted largely of small farms linked by a few dirt roads. As time passed, the increasing use of more advanced farming techniques and machinery began to make the small farm holdings less and less efficient. The trend was to consolidate the small parcels into larger farms that could more readily take advantage of the economies of scale. Charles E. Coxe, together with his wife Louisa, was a keen innovator in this agricultural revolution of the late 19th century. He purchased and consolidated nine small farm parcels* on the east and west sides of Sugartown Road and immediately instituted what were at the time strikingly new methods and practices in farming. Coxe planted the first hedgerows. What are today's picturesque Osage Orange tree hedges were a hardy and fast-growing means of arresting wind and rain driven erosion of fields. Coxe brought the first combine reaper/binder to the Township, turning a week of hand harvesting by a dozen laborers with scythes into a day's work by two laborers and two horses. The future of dairy lay in the 100-plus cow operations being seen at Delchester Farm just down the road. With that in mind, Coxe closed the dairy operations on his small farms, as his were 8-10 cow herds. He also brought into

Drum Roll, Please...

GO WilMa! stands for Get Outside around Willistown and Malvern. Inspired and modeled after the Healthy York County Coalition's Get Outdoors York program, our outdoor adventure program combines parks and recreation, health and wellness, and reading. The program is based on the national K-5 and teen summer reading program themes identified annually by the National Collaborative Summer Library Program (CSLP).

The 2015 CSLP themes are "Every Hero

2014 Go WilMa! Outdoor Adventure Program Theme Unveiled

has a Story!" and "Unmask!" These themes are used as inspiration for our GO WilMa! outdoor adventure program theme which is...drum roll, please..."Nature Heroes—You Can Be One Too!" The program is paired with the summer reading program, so kids who sign up for the summer reading program at Malvern or Paoli Library are provided the GO WilMa! program guide. If you haven't "checked out" GO WilMa!—it's a must-try!

Spearheaded by Willistown Township Parks & Recreation, the GO WilMa! Program Team also includes Malvern and Paoli Libraries. GO WilMa! is all about fun outdoor adventures with family, friends, and neighbors spending time together scavenger hunting throughout the parks and other special places in our community. The explorers locate rubbing posts where they stamp their program books—passports of sorts. Prize raffle tickets are provided for each stamp shown to the libraries.

Stay tuned to the Crier for more information, and to be in the know: sign up for Willistown Parks and Recreation announcements at www.willistown.pa.us and visit GO WilMa! under Parks & Recreation Community Programs. Like GO WilMa! on Facebook. The program is paid for in large part by Willistown Township with assistance from Malvern Borough and East Goshen Township.

Willistown Township Community Service Award Presented to David E. Watt

We are pleased to announce that the Willistown Township Community Service Award 2015 recipient is Dave Watt, 18-year member and current Secretary of the Planning Commission and 45-year Willistown resident. When looking for a place to live Dave and his wife, Toni, found a home they fell in love with in northern Willistown. Dave was immediately “sold” as the home was only six minutes from his work as a social studies teacher in the Tredyffrin-Easttown School District. Dave lives in the same house to this day. He and Toni were married for 44 years prior to her passing in 2009.

When asked what inspired him to serve, Dave replied, “I was always interested in local government—not as a participant—it was curiosity, and I liked keeping up with things.” His interest led him to get to know the Planning Commission Chairwoman, Rita Reves. One day she said there was an opening on the Commission and asked if he would apply. That was 18 years ago.

Dave has served as the Planning Commission Secretary for almost as long. He recalls with a snicker, “I won the hard fought battle to be Secretary after Bill Shoemaker bailed from the position.” Dave reported that as a retiree, he had the time to do the job and to work with Rita carrying out the duties.

When asked what keeps him serving, he replied that he has watched a lot of significant changes in the Township and continues to be inspired by the process. He gives high marks to the Township’s professional consultants: planner John Gaadt, and engineer Mike Conrad. He is impressed by the “smorgasbord of skills” that the Commission members bring to the table including legal, construction, engineering, architectural, ordinance, and local knowledge. Once the applicants jump through all the hoops of the Commission’s thorough review, Dave gets a lot of satisfaction that the final result is usually a lot better than when first proposed.

We caught up with Dave in Ocala, Florida where he likes to go for walks, read, and travel to the Gulph of Mexico to see the manatees. He describes the area as “beautiful countryside very similar to the horse country in Willistown and Unionville—with the exception of the occasional palm tree.”

Rita Reves, who has been on the Commission with Dave during his tenure, gives rave reviews regarding his service as Secretary. She is also sure to mention his “wonderful sense of humor” — “He brings a quote each week that delights us all!” Dave says he appreciates things that seem funny when he is doing the minutes, and the Commission meetings do not disappoint. He notes that the majority are “you had to be there” witticisms but shared the following. An applicant’s consultant was the last to present to the Planning Commission. It was getting later and later, and clearly it had been

Thank you to all of our volunteers for your dedication to community service. Your willingness to serve demonstrates leadership, integrity, and a love of your community that is nothing short of inspirational!

a long day, the consultant began nodding off. When their name was called, “Auhhh...” came out as they awoke. The quote at the following Planning Commission meeting a month later was simply, “Auhhh.” Dave explained that, “It’s a serious operation, but you can’t be serious all the time or you’ll go nuts!”

ANNUAL PHONATHON March 22 & 23

This is our major fundraiser for the Library, and we are looking for enthusiastic volunteers to help make the phone calls or write the follow up notes. Our goal this year is to top $25,000. The money raised is used by Malvern Library to improve our collections and programming. Call the Library (610-644-7259) for more information.

ART EXHIBITS

Tired of the winter weather? Stop in and enjoy the colors and energy of our latest art exhibit by Art by Ten artists. Many of the pieces are for sale, and the artists generously donate 15% of the price to the Library.

The wonderful murals in our Children's room will soon be complemented by paintings in the Malvern Borough Building lobby. The Malvern Community Arts Project is spearheading the 125th Anniversary of the Borough Project. Randall Graham is painting several works depicting King Street, which will be displayed in the lobby. Thanks to the Malvern Community Arts Project for beautifying the Borough!

THE LIBRARY NEEDS YOUR HELP!

The Friends of Paoli Library is regrouping and is working diligently to increase their membership. Public funding is flat, and operating costs have increased. Even with the much-appreciated 3% increase in funding from Willistown and Tredyffrin Townships, the future of Paoli Library is at immediate risk.

There is a serious budget deficit at the main Tredyffrin Public Library. This deficit may cause additional closed days, shorter hours, or cuts in services at Paoli Library.

The Friends of Paoli Library are asking that you join the fight to make sure Paoli Library stays vital and stays in Paoli. The Picture of Dorian Gray* by Oscar Wilde
Wednesday, March 25, 6:30pm

Oscar Wilde's only novel explores the pitfalls of a life lived only for the sake of art, aesthetics, and "beauty". Once banned in Victorian England, this gothic tale features the handsome, clever, and rich protagonist, Dorian Gray, who makes a Faustian bargain.

Sargent's Daughters* by Erica Hirschler
Wednesday, May 13, 6:30pm

This book is a biography about a painting, "The Daughters of Edward Darley Boit", by one of the most celebrated American artists of the late 19th and early 20th centuries, John Singer Sargent. The author highlights the cultural, social, and artistic lives of Sargent and his fellow expatriates at the dawn of the Modern Age. Included is an assessment of how professional critical reviews have affected the reception of this painting by the public.

Pack 98 Cub Scouts Collect 453 Coats for Those in Need!

Willistown and area residents showed their generosity by dropping off 453 coats during the Township's 11th annual coat collection last fall. Cub Scout Pack 98 was fully engaged picking up and sorting coats. Our drop-box hosts include Malvern and Paoli Libraries, Paoli United Methodist Church, Willistown Township's administration office, Sugartown and General Wayne Elementary Schools, and Paoli Hospital.

"Miracle Mom" Danielle Turner directed the coat collection efforts while allocating 75% of her dining room to sorting and bagging.

Wayne Presbyterian Church delivered 200 coats to the homeless served by Outley House Men's Shelter and Broad Street Ministry, of Philadelphia, and City Team Ministries in Chester. St. Mary's Episcopal Church delivered 253 coats to The Branches mission outreach in Rio Grande, NJ. Many thanks to our donors, the Cub Scouts, Danielle Turner, our drop-box hosts, and the churches. Our 11-year total of coats collected and distributed is 3,953!

Bob Lange Named Farmer of the Year

Congratulations to Willistown Supervisor, Bob Lange, AKA Farmer Bob, on being awarded 2014 Farmer of Year by the Board of Chester County Commissioners and the Chester County Agricultural Development Council! The Farmer of the Year award recognizes a farmer, farm family, or partnership that maintains and exemplifies outstanding farming practices.

Hillary Krummrich, on behalf of the Agricultural Development Council, commended Bob for his passion for agriculture and conservation. Krummrich also highlighted Bob's willingness to support and promote other agricultural producers and his service to his community through agricultural organizations. Farmer Bob, as he is fondly known to many Willistowners, is also the only farmer in Chester County that has been awarded both Farmer of the Year and the Distinguished Service to Agriculture award.

Bob's farm, Sugartown Strawberries, is located at Willisbrook Farm, a 230-acre working farm in Chester County that has been in the family since 1896! In 1996, Pennsylvania Governor Tom Ridge attended the farm's 100-year celebration and presented the state's "Century Farm" certificate to the family. The farm has 100 acres of tillable land and is registered as a Natural Wildlife Habitat by the National Wildlife Federation.

In addition to growing asparagus and strawberries in the spring, Bob also specializes in growing sweet corn, vegetables, and sunflowers. He is probably most known for providing fall family fun on the farm with just a few pumpkins in the mix!

Bob shares his passion for farming and conservation with over 5,000 school children each year. Children learn about agriculture, pollination, nutrition, land preservation and conservation, wildlife, technology, weather, and Native American and Quaker history.

Farmer Bob—outstanding in his field!

his home a new-fangled device, only the second in the area: a telephone. Charles E. Coxe was a man of the new era! It may be difficult to imagine in 2015, but at the time Coxe arrived in Willistown, one of the chief problems facing residents was the serious crime of horse theft. In the world before motor vehicles, horses were the keystone of economic life. They provided transportation, pulled the plow, and turned the wheel. Many small farmers could only afford one horse, and losing it to a thief could condemn a farmer and his family to poverty or even death. No one could survive long without a horse. Naturally, such a valuable commodity would be the target of thieves who could readily sell their stolen goods in the city where the demand was high. At that time, Willistown had no police department. Residents relied on a single Constable for all police and public safety needs. Shortly after settling in the Township, Coxe was elected Justice of the Peace—what we call the District Justice today. As Justice of the Peace, he performed weddings, dealt with small claims and lawsuits, and conducted arraignments of suspected horse thieves and other lawbreakers arrested by the Constable. Needless to say, in the absence of cars, there was no traffic court! And, as there was no Township building in Willistown, for many years Mr. Coxe handled the duties of Justice of the Peace out of his home on Sugartown Road. This system worked well until one day, after having been repeatedly awakened in the early hours of the morning by the Constable bringing miscreants to the door, Louisa Coxe told her husband that she would no longer tolerate having criminals arraigned in her Living Room. Charles Coxe solved his problem (and the Township's) by acquiring and donating the land that became the first part of what is now the Township campus on Sugartown Road. He built what many will remember as the "Old Township Building" which was demolished in 1991 and replaced with what is soon to be the Administration Building. The Old Township Building served as a location for the business of the Constable and the Justice of the Peace. Additionally, its second floor was set aside as a community hall where local groups gathered and public dances were held on Saturday nights. Willistown Township has certainly changed since Charles Coxe settled here 120 years ago, yet we honor and remember him today as a founding and leading citizen, innovative farmer, and Justice of the Peace. *The consolidated lands include the following: On the west side of Sugartown Road, the farm began at Boot Road and headed north, including the property just north of Willisbrook Preserve. On the east side of Sugartown Road, the farm began at Spring Road and headed north up to and including Old Barn Lane. The farm also included some parcels in the crossroads village of Historic Sugartown.

Chester County's Household Hazardous Waste Spring Recycling Event

Saturday, April 11 • 9 AM–3 PM

Center for Arts & Technology: 1580 Charlestown Road, Phoenixville

This is a Chester County-sponsored event, not a Willistown Township event. Please note: E-waste will not be accepted. Do not leave chemicals, paints, poisons, etc. at the Township building. The Township does not have any capabilities for disposing of this material. Note: E-waste will be accepted at the Township building on April 11.

From the Chief

I hope you all had a great Holiday. Thanks to everyone who brought cookies, food, and candy to the station for our officers during the holiday season. What a kind gesture!

On December 10, 2014, we hosted a ribbon cutting and open house for our new police building. What a great turnout! Thanks for the feedback and kind words. We also thank our outstanding District Attorney Tom Hogan, Senator Tom McGarrigle, Representative Duane Milne, County Controller and former Supervisor Norman MacQueen, Magisterial District Justice Tom Tartaglio, and former Magisterial District Justice Chet Darlington for joining us.

Several years ago, I approached our then Chairman of the Board of Supervisors, Bill Shoemaker, and expressed concerns that the current police building had serious safety and space deficiencies. Mr. Shoemaker reviewed the issues, and the process began. I want to thank Mr. Shoemaker for his time and energy assuring that we brought the building in on budget, solved our legal requirements, and built a facility that would last 15-25 years. Thanks, Bill, for your unwavering commitment to public safety.

The building was meant to capture the history of Willistown.

Our commemoration plaque reads, "Dedicated to the Citizens of Willistown Township for their constant and dedicated support of their police department." The police and residents share an outstanding relationship, and this was an appropriate way to display that for all to see.

— Chief John Narcise

When people enter Willistown, they think "What a beautiful community!" This building adds to it. Many people have told me how nice the building is and that the design and stonework are perfect. This building belongs to you, our residents, and it should look good. We were very fortunate that our architect, Dave Schrader, and General Contractor, Frank Houder, are both Township residents. They wanted this building to be the best. Thanks, Dave and Frank, it was great working with you!

We also had several residents that worked on the building during the process. I could see there was a sense of pride among the contractors. We had many meetings, cold days, and a few setbacks. In the end, however, this building is something that will provide us the ability to maintain best police practices and in turn continue the excellent service you deserve.

When you enter the front lobby of the building, you will see a plaque that reads "Dedicated to the Citizens of Willistown Township for their constant and dedicated support of their police department." As I have said for so many years, the police and residents share an outstanding relationship, and this was an appropriate way to display that for all to see.

Once again, I would like to thank Supervisors Bob Lange, Bill Shoemaker, and former Supervisor Norman MacQueen for voting "yes" to this important project. I would like to thank current Supervisor George McHugh who was appointed while the project was under way, and who helped with the progress through completion. With their approval of this project, the Supervisors leave no doubt that they are serious about protecting the citizens of Willistown Township.

One of the best Supervisors meetings you will attend is our annual Police Awards Night. Bring your family to meet and support your police department on March 9th, 7pm, at Sugartown Elementary School. Officers will be recognized for their exceptional work. I look forward to seeing you there.

Working together, we can continue to keep Willistown Township one of the safest places to live. Let's keep working hard in 2015 to reach this goal.

Stay Safe, John Narcise
